

1. Which product lines generate the highest total sales, and how do sales contributions compare across different product categories?

Bar Chart

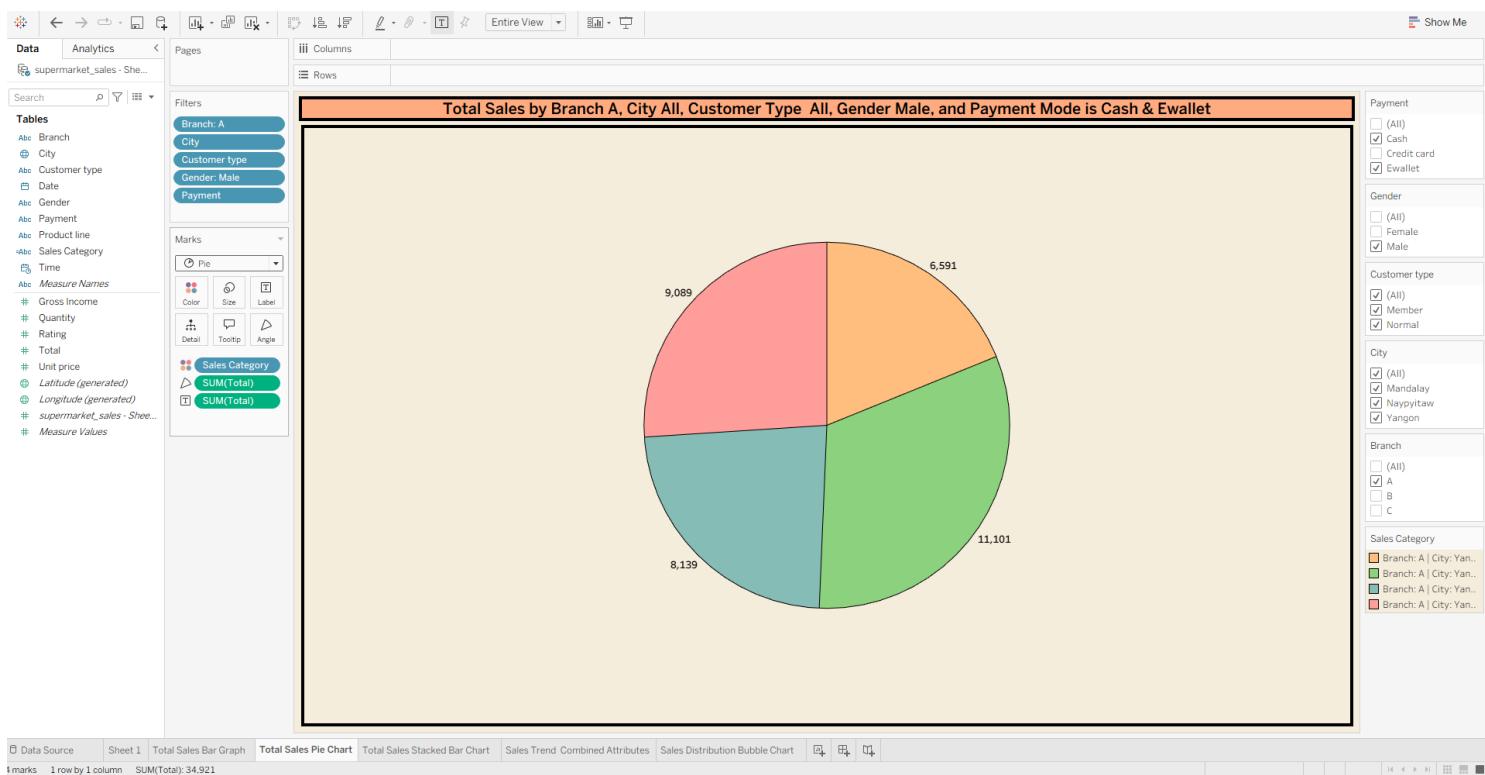

2. Which branch–city–customer–gender–payment combinations generate the highest and lowest total sales, and how does sales performance vary across these detailed segments?

Bar Chart

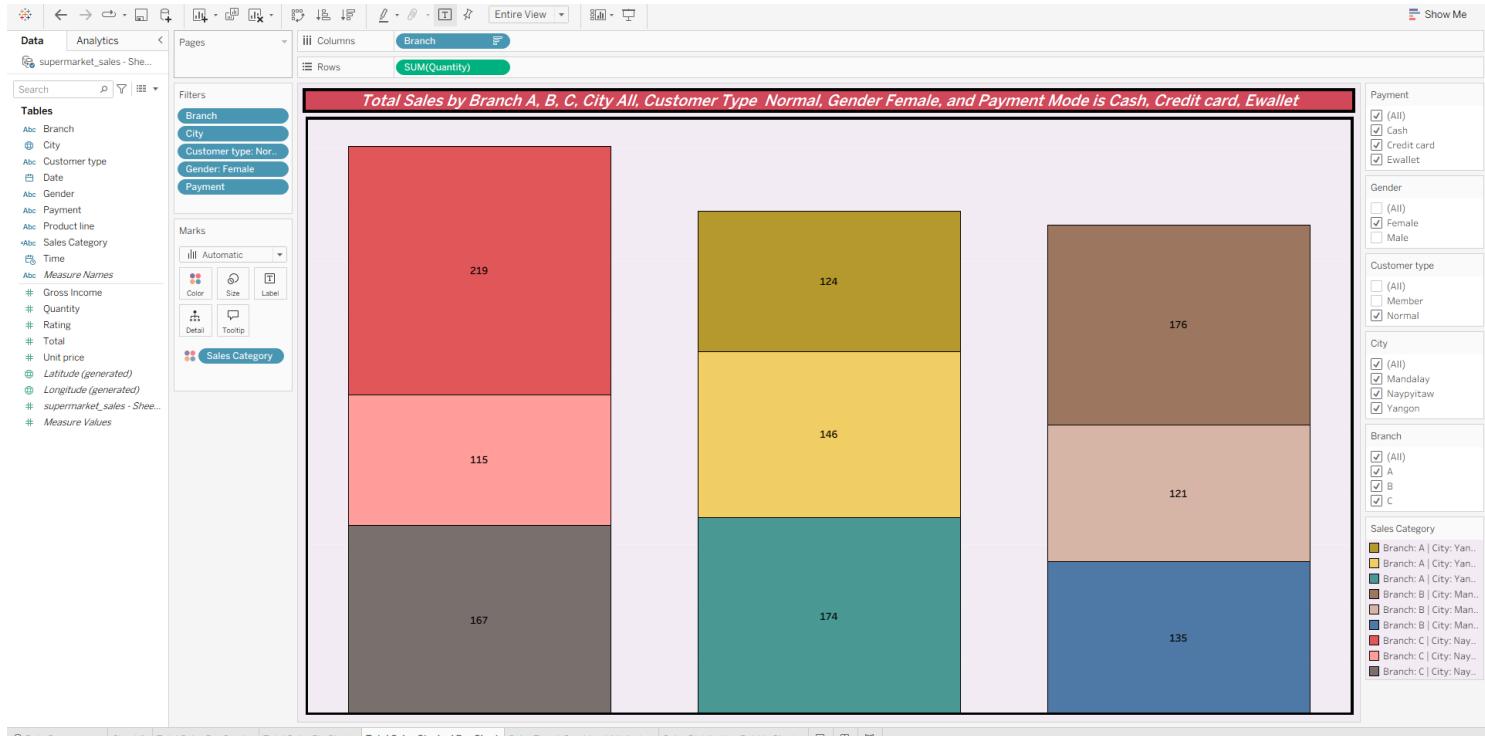

- 3. For Branch A and male customers, using Cash and E-wallet payment modes across all cities and customer types, how is total sales distributed across different sales categories?

Pie Chart

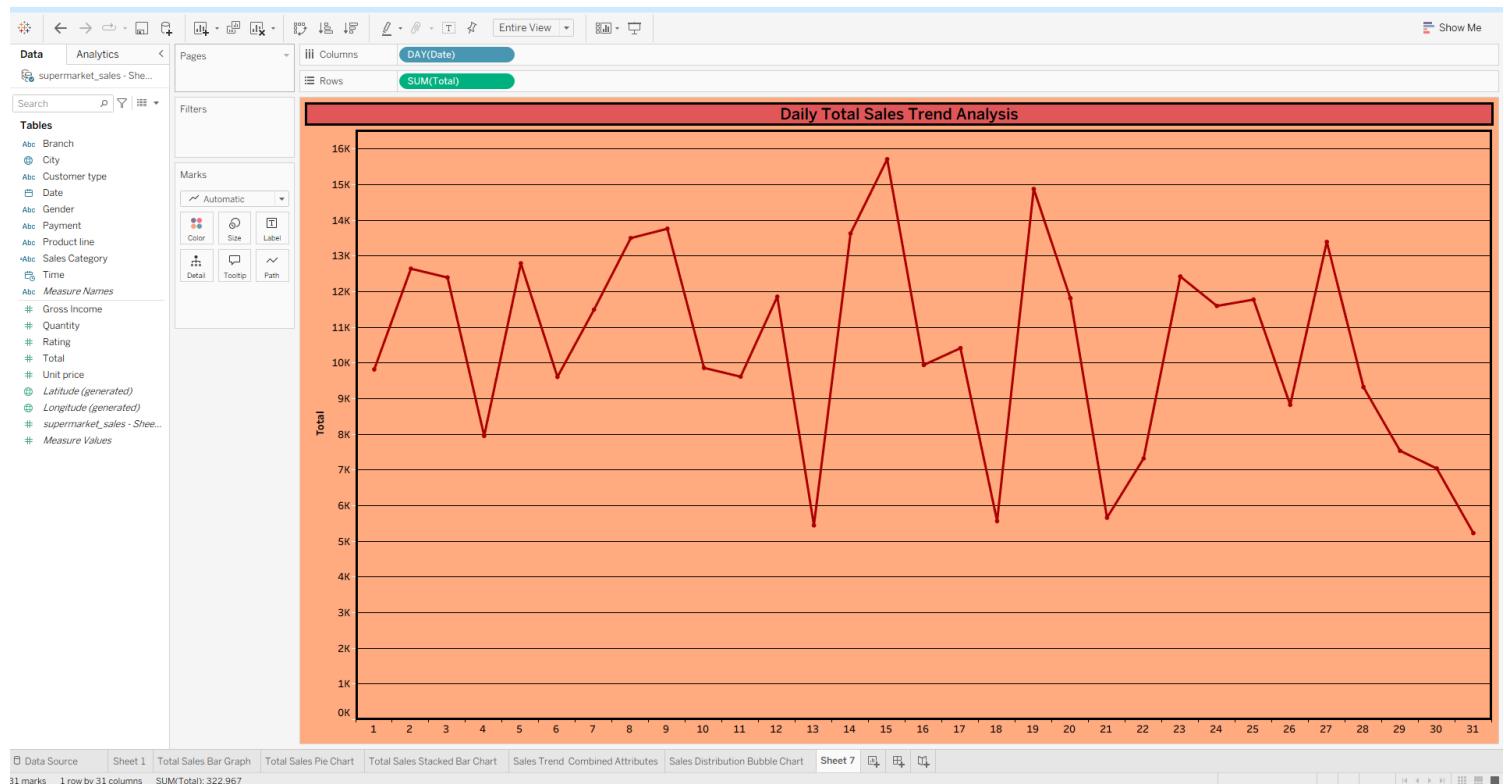

- 4. For normal female customers across all cities, and all payment methods, how does product quantity sold vary across all Branches and which branch contributes the highest quantity across sales categories?

Stacked Bar Chart

5. How do total sales fluctuate on a day-to-day basis, and are there specific days with significant sales peaks or drops?

Line Chart

6. For Branch B in Mandalay, among member customers using credit card and e-wallet payment methods, how is total sales distributed across different sales categories, and which category contributes the highest sales?

Bubble Chart

